

Post-COVID Recovery in Michigan Schools

Wednesday, April 7 from Noon to 1:30pm

DOUGLAS N. HARRIS
Director, Education Research
Alliance for New Orleans
Professor of Economics, Tulane
University
Schlieder Foundation Chair in Public Education, Tulane
University

IPPSR's April 7 Public Policy Forum welcomes Douglas Harris, Tulane University professor of economics and author of the new book Charter School City. He'll talk about lessons learned in New Orleans in the wake of Hurricane Katrina and lead off a discussion with Michigan educational leaders about public schools' post-COVID recovery.

We'll be looking beyond the pandemic to ask what challenges are ahead as parents, students and teachers transition to classroom education? What does K-12 education look like in a strong recovery? What changes and new models of learning are in Michigan's present and future?

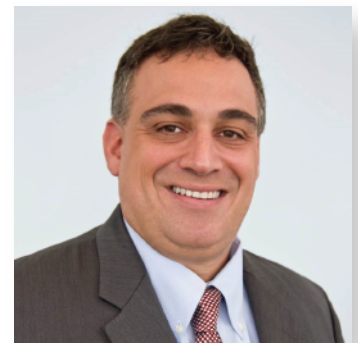

PANELISTS

Paula Herbart
Michigan Education Association

Andraé Townsel
Benton Harbor Area Schools

Nicholas Paradiso
National Heritage Academies

Institute for Public Policy and Social Research

MICHIGAN STATE
UNIVERSITY

Office of K-12 Outreach
College of Education