drink                      Lowering Drinking Age 18

Recently, a number of university presidents across the U.S. proposed lowering the legal drinking age from 21 to 18 years of age. There are a number of reasons people have given for and against doing this.

Some argue against lowering the drinking age to 18 because they think that 18-20 year olds aren't mature enough, experienced enough, or it would increase the number of drunk drivers on the road and make it easier for other younger high school students to get access to alcohol.

Others argue for lowering the drinking age to 18 because they think that if 18 year olds are old enough to vote, to serve in the military, or to drive, they should be old enough to drink. Also, since surveys indicate that most 18-20 year olds already drink, the increase in the number of drinkers would be relatively small.

If it were up to you, would you favor or oppose lowering the legal drinking age from 21 to 18 years of age?

roads2 Tax Increase Improve Roads

Some technical studies have evaluated Ohio roads as being smoother than Michigan roads. The largest source of road funds in Michigan comes from a 19 cent per gallon state tax on gasoline.

roads3                      Best Method - Raise Money Roads

Next, I'm going to read you three methods other states use to raise money for road repairs. Each method raises about the same amount of money.

Which of the following do you think would be the best way for Michigan to raise additional money for road repairs?

Raising the gasoline tax from 19 to 21 cents per gallon, raising vehicle registration fees by 10%, or charging a toll averaging a half cent per mile to drive on Michigan freeways?
